Reinforced With Antillery Bulgarlans and Germans Prepare to Carry Fight Into Greek Territory.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Berlin, Dec. 10.-According to information received in military quarers here the Angle-French expedition in the Balkans has continued its rereat and has now entirely evacuated Serbian territory,

In the battle between Bulgarians and British forces in southwestern Serbia ten guns were captured from losses.

Resistance of the Montenegrins has lost nothing of its stubborness and the plight of the Scrbians fleeing into Albania is said to be growing less sectors. But military affairs in these sections have become of comparative small importance and have little bearing on the main situation, since the Sorbian retreat has shifted southward.

was able to assert its cwn interest.

The interest of the central powers, r is stated, is merely that Greece should remain neutral, no more and no less. Considering the condition of the country and that the Greek government itself sees that it is for the welfare of the Helenic people to remain neutral, the central powers, it is asserted, have no occasion to bring pressure to bear in Athens.

Right to Enter Greece.
It is held by officials that inasmuch as Greece gave her consent for entent powers to send troops across Greek territory and to take other military steps, this created a right for the Teutonic and Bulgarian troops to do the same.

Military experts here express the helicit that the transport and all are urged to ather same.

Military experts here express the Military experts here express the belief that the entente powers hardly school Visit: Miss Sadge will try to make good their reported threats to create a Gibraltar out of Saloniki, the geographical and political situation of that place being rejoint school No. 1 of Rock, Sarded as unfitted for defensive purpless. lies should try in this manner to create a base, it is declared the artillery that reduced Antwerp would have something to say.

The entente allies would err, it is declared, in assuming that any undertaking in the Balkans would be too great for the central powers. The interest of Greece would in any case be respected, it is stated, but the entente troops on Greek territory would be attacked energetically, which course, it is maintained, nobody could condemn. The delineation of the arena of war, would then be Greece's affair and would depend upon the movement of the entente troops.

Central Powers Confident.

The utmost contidence is expressed in authoritative quarters here concerning the Balkan situation since the central powers, it is claimed, are able to confront whatever forces the entente forces lend at Salonitit or elsewhere, with forces greatly superior in number. The lines of communication for the central allies and Bulgarians are already in good condition, which is hardly the case for the entente allies, it is said.

Bulgarians Reinforced,
The Bulgarians Reinforced, and well supported by artillery are relewing violently their attack on the Franco-British forces in Macedonia. Their assault has gone through all the preliminary stages and is now approaching the cilmax of intensity. TELLS STORY OF BEING DRUGGED IN A HOTEL

"Yer honor, I took a couple of drinks, and that's all I remember. When I woke up my 'dough,' my watch and everything else was gone. I must have been drugged," said John Maloney of Clinton Junction, as he explained why he plead guilty to the charge of intoxication in the municipal court this morning. Straighaway Maloney started to tell of his alloged pilght at a local hotel, and was in the midst of a very vivid description of a story of being drugged and robbed when the court woke him up with a statement of "Five dollars and costs or seven days," which promptly brought Maloney back to earth again and to jail.

"He's been around that hotel for the last week and drunk every day," said the chief Champion, "and if he over had a watch he probably put it into hock," said the chief when asked about the truth of the drugged story. The police have investigated and so far have found no evidence that Maloney's account has any truth in it.

IS BROUGHT AGAINST DIVORCED HUSBAND

Monroe Woman Failed to Ask Allmony Because She Thought Former Spouse Was "Broke."

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE) Monroe, Wis., Dec. 10.—Charged with perjury, Edward J. Griffiths has been returned to Monroe for trial. The arrest is an echo of the action for divorce tried in the local courts last February. Griffiths was arrested in Chicago.

arrest is an echo of the action for divorce tried in the local courts last February. Griffiths was arrested in Chicago.

The arrest and prosecution of Griffiths marks another chapter in the shattering of the romance of Mrs. Nettie S. Wright of this city. The two were children together, and intimate friends. Their ways divided and the woman became the wife of Collin Wright, during his lifetime one of the leading lawyers of Monroe.

Bride Financed Honeymoon.

Following the death of Wright, the widow and Griffiths chanced to meet while she was caring for her mother in a neighboring town. Soon their engagement was announced. It was given out that Griffiths was a prominent broker on the Chicago board of trade, as well as the owner of large real estate holdings in the west. A short time before their marriage, according to the testimony offered at the divorce hearing, he asked and secured a loan of $1,000 from his bride to-be, all of his wealth being tied up in investments in which he was unable to realize at the time. Following the marriage he made other loans, totaling between $7.600 and $8.000, no part of which, it is alleged, was ever repaid.

Charges Husband Has Money.

Following the marriage there was a wedding trip to California, and it was soon afterward the matrimonial bark struck the rocks when Griffiths was unable to show his western holdings.

In a hearing before County Judge Becker, prior to the divorce suit last February in the circuit court, Griffiths testified that $55 was all that stood between him and the poorhouse, and all of the money he had borrowed from his wife had been expended. It was this testimony which is now charged was perjured, Mrs. Wright in her complaint alleging that she has sufficient reasons for believing that at that time he had a large sum on deposit with the Illinois Trust and Savings bank in Chicago. She further alleges that had she known this at the time she would have been able to recover the greater part of the money she had loaned, and would also have made a plen for allimon mony.

Mrs. Wright was given judgment in the sum she had loaned, Griffiths returned to Chicago to his home with relatives, although it is alleged, he returned to Madison, Wis., long enough to make the acquaintance of the wife of a prominent professor at the state university, who fell a victim to his wiles. However, this is denied by Griffiths.

wiles. However, this is denied by Griffiths.

The present action for perjury is filed by Mrs. Wright not so much in the belief that she will be able to recover the money which has been loaned as through her desire to check the career of Griffiths and prevent, other women from losing their property.

Prisoner Lodged in Hotel.

Considerable feeling has been manifested here by the fact that Griffiths has been permitted to stop at the leading hotel in the city at the expense of the county and under guard of a special officer paid by the county, instead of being locked in the county jail while awaiting his preliminary hearing, although he chains to have but nineteen cents.

DEBATERS PREPARE

Debaters at the Janesville high school are preparing for the annual debates which will take place in the early part of next year under the auspices of the Beloit college forensic department. There are three schools belonging to this triangular league, Beloit, Janesville and Madisen, and each school will have two teams. Preliminary try-out have been held and the final tryouts will take place after the Christmas vacation. The question for debate this year is: "Resolved that the United States should subsidize its merchant marine engaged in foreign commerce."

subsidize its merchant marine engaged in foreign commerce."

The high school lost four of their debaters through graduation last year and Spohn will not enter this year, so Fisher is the only veteran back. There is some valuable material available, however, and Coach Gruinisen expects to round out some winning teams. The men who are out for the first team are: Leslie. Hyne, Pond, Wright, Cushing and Griffen, Janesville will debate against the Beloit and Madison high schools. The affrmative team will debate Beloit in this city and the negative team will go to Madison.

Plans for the girls debating teams have not been completed, but they are leading to enier the triangular league with the Fort Atkinson and Edgerton high schools. The question has not been submitted. All the plans will be perfected after the Christmas vacation.

This year the two lower classes in the school will have debating teams. The boys of the sophomore and freshman class will have their debate on the first Saturday night after New Year's. They will debate the minimum wage question. The girls of the mum wage question. The girls of the two lower classes will have their debate on the first Friday after school opens. Great interest is being shown in the lower classes: and these contests are sure to be very spirited.

BRADLEY CONRAD CHOSEN ON LAWRENCE GLEE CLUB
Bradley Conrad of Janesville, who is attending Lawrence College, has been chosen a member of the Lawrence College Olec club. Especial credit is due Mr. Conrad and the members of this year's club, as eighty men competed in the tryouts and only thirty-five appointments were made. This year nine first tenors, seven second tenors, eight baritones and eight bassos were selected. Mr. Conrad is one of the second tenors. The Glee club is under the training for Professor Carl J. Waterman, who is it is nown as a musical director. In addition to receiving this excellent training, the club enjoys a three weeks' concert tour of Wisconsin and is northern part of Michigan. The schedule of the tour has not yet been decided, but it is announced that the club will start before the spring vacation.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison, Wis., Dec. 10.—The commission today announced that a hearing in the case of the Racine water works, a proceeding under which the city is attempting to purchase the plant, will be taken up on Jan. 17. This municipal purchase is the largest yet to come before the commission, involving property valued at nearly $1,000,000. The case has been delayed through long litigation in the courts, but all cases having been disposed of the commission believes that a final valuation will be quickly arrived at. One of the reasons for delaying the case is that the testimony of Allen Hazen, a water works expert, is destred. Mr. Hazen, now of Californie, will come east to spend Christmas in New York, and on his way back will appear before the railroad

STUDENTS EXAMINED ON THE NON-RESIDENT RULES OF THE 'VARSITY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] Madison, Wis., Dec. 10.—Fifteen non-resident students attending the university were given a bearing before the state officers and members of the university faculty to determine whether they were actually residents of this state, entitled to the resident tuition rate. Evidence in the matter

Prof. H. J. Thorkelson, business manager of the university, and M. E. McCaffery, secretary of the board of university regents. The students were called in one by one and allowed to state the full particulars of their case. This is the first time that a proceeding of this character has been conducted. It was stated that night that several of the students had been found to be residents and would be allowed the lower fee.

SHOWS THE NEEDS.

The recent report of the chief of the re department has created anew an interest in the physical conditions of our school buildings from the stand-point of safety. This report, coming as it does, in its official form, from an officer experienced as a fire-lighter and possessed of knowledge of build-ings from the standpoint of their fire hazard, is receiving deserved attention by school officers, and the public generally.

One remedy for the congested conditions of the high school and the hazardous conditions of the industrial school, in the third floor of the Lincoln school building, would be the building of an addition to the high school building, large enough to accommodate the entire industrial school and the overflow from the high

The start at redeeming the streets of the busin-s district for the use of the public and the removal of the unsightly poles that have been a menace and an eyesore for scores of years, has begun. The tew poles removed show such a marked improvement in appearance that the only question is, why were they ever permitted to be erecided in the first place? BACK FROM WASHINGTON.

Senafor La Follette has come back from Washington. Ho finished his first swing around the circuits in denouncing the existing state government, praising McGovern and extolling the virtues of Robert M. La Follette, and what a great man he is, and at what personal sacrifices be is serving the public. He has said nothing about the personal sacrifices that the targutyers of the state have been forced to make because of the era of reform which his doctrines instilled in the state, but contents himself with abusing men who seek to give the people a business administration, for congress is in session and he is not needed, and for a week or two the state will hear more from him.

INCREASED TAXES.

Of the most vital importance to a great number of citizens are the propositions of Secretary McAdoo to raise additional revenue. This he would do, and it is understood that the president endorses his scheme, by levying special taxes on gasoline, kerosene and all forms of lubricating oils formed from petroleuin, on all forms formed from petroleum, on all forms of engines, according to horsepower, on all automobiles and, as he expresses it, "various other articles not necessary to mention." Furthermore, Mr. McAdoo proposes to increase the income tax by lowering the minimum facome taxable, so that all single men making $2,000 a year and all married exceptes making $3,000 a year, or more, would be taxed. He also propose in would be taxed. He also proposes increasing the tax on the income of all corporations. "These taxes," he says, "would be wisely diffused and little relt," a conclusion which is emphatically rejected by all the republicans and many democrats, including so staunch a supported of the Wilson administration as Senstor Gore of Okto ministration as Senator Gore, of Okla-homa, who has come out in an inter-view against the proposed taxation of gasoline, kerosene, etc.

READING ADVERTISING.

Quite a number of the large newspapers of the country have recently been printing a series of articles in which they set out to educate their readers to the advantages of close scrutiny of their advertising columns.

They argue that these burses here They argue that these business no-tices contain in every issue a market report of trade conditions, and a directory of bargains, and that by lookrectory of pargains, and that by look-ing them over from day to day, the consumer can learn of special chances to buy cheaply and can thus greatly reduce the cost of living. It is suggested in these articles that clothing, because they do not look out carefully enough for the bargains that are available. There are some people who will not anticipate their wants at all even if an article which they are going to need in the near full ture is advertised at a low rate for a special drive. Such poople are not in a position to complain if they pay good round prices.

While this is perfectly true, it applies more to the readers of the newspapers in big cities than it does to a town like ours. In a community like this, there is very close reading of newspaper advertisements. This is not done merely by people who are looking for some special bargain, but there is much interest in local business enterprises. People like to see what this or that merchant is doing. They may have no special wants that they want to supply at some given time, but they are interested in the finance of the property of the property in the p what this or that merchant is doing. They may have no special wants that they want to supply at some given time, but they are interested in the competition between home merchants. They look at the work of the home stores and their various merchandise undertaking as one of the features of the life of the town, to be followed with interest from day to day. Newspaper advertising is the medium through which they look for this information. The great majority of our people follow it closely. Others who do not study it carefully, as was noted above, are missing the bost available chance to reduce living costs.

Christmas • Gifts for Men

The average man is a particular individual and rather hard to please when it comes to gift things. When it comes to selecting them for him its logical to infer that the store that suits the man the best the year 'round is the store that will best suit him at Christmas time. And it is upon this fact that we base our claim of being "The Christmas store for Men's and Boys' Gifts."

Caloric Cookstove

It is useful, practical and reasonable in price. To the housewife who cooks or has cooking done it means convenience and comfort, not for a few days only but every day in the week the year round. Nothing you could give would be more appropriate or better show your spirit of kindness and appreciation.

We want you to see and examine one of these wonderful cookstoves. Let us explain to you how soups, meat, bread, pastry, in fact, literally everything for the table can be cooked far better the "Calcile way" than by any other method. We will explain and prove that, by its use over seventy-five per cent is saved in fuel alone, as well as time, labor and discomfort. How all the juices and natural flavors of foods are retained making them more nutritious and palatable.

"The "Caloric" will bake and roast food in its raw state without heating or partially cooking over an ordinary stove, as well as stew, steam, boil, etc.

Could you imagine a more desirable gift for a housewife?

Be sure and visit our display of these famous Caloric Cookstoves on our second floor.

The moment you feel a dun ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before, breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

The American Milk Co. opened their new canning department this week. The building is about completed and the machinery installed. The company has been shipping the product of the plant in bulk, but from now on part of the output will be shipped out as canned goods, the smail sizel cans being used. The second story of the new errected building will be used as a store room. The new department will necessitate the increase of the working force, four or five allitional meeting at the city hall Thursday evening. A report was made on the financial condition of the company by the secretary, Mr. Chas. Walton, who stated that good progress has been made in the erection of buildings and that machinery was being installed. Cars are now running into the plant, bringing material, and the big stack was reported well under way. It was stated that the company needs $14,000 for immediate use on buildings and many of the stockholders are increasing their holdings.

"Wassa trouble? Wassa big ideer?" yawned the engineer, as he put on a couple more pints of steam.

"Stop the train! There's a man's leg under the wheels! Stop the train!" yelled Cyclops Pazas.

"What? Who is he? G'night!" cried the engineer, and brought the train to a stop with a joit that broke all the eggs in the pockets of the passengers who happened to be carrying them there.

"Where?" said the engineer.

"Here," answered Pazas, and, reaching under the wheels, drew forth a partly wrapped leg of mutton. "I paid for this, so if it's not a man's leg, what is? Thank you so much."

Lucktly, the noise of revolving wheels and escaping steam drowning the engineer's wicked words, so we have a perfect artistic right to leave them out.

BUSHMAN SEEN AGAIN IN MOST POPULAR ROLE

Film Version of Kip!ing's "Vampire."
Here is an instance of the power and the scope of the motion picture. When Rudyard Kipling put the immortal poem before the world, it touched here and there among the thinking public: not all intellects could grasp it, and it was only the few that it reached. Then Porter Emerson Browne dramatized it, and for several years it was the starring vehicle for Robert Hilliard; Hilliard achieved considerable renown in the part, made it a great stage success, and brought its message nome to a much greater section or humanity than could have received it otherwise. But it remained for the film version to reach the masses; the picturization brings the great poem to the reach of everyone, of trained or untrained intellect, and tells the story with a sharpness that drives it home to every speciator.

But it is not the theme alone that makes the picture "A Fool There Was" remarkable. Edward Jose, as "The Fool." and Theda Bara as "The Vampire." offer characterizations that have made this one of the outstanding pictures of the year, and one of the most discussed. Jose had his introduction to the Janesville public in "Silver Threads Among the Gold," but Theda Bara has not yet been seen here. The wide renown that she has gained, together with the fact that this is the best known of her pictures. makes it almost a duty for you to see it.

"A Fool There Was" is scheduled to be shown at the Majestic on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Good Advice for Thin, Undeveloped pro: Men and Women Who Want to Put on Flesh.

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, weak norves and feable stomachs who, having tried advertised flesh-makers, food-fads, physical culture stunts and rub-on cream, resign themselves to life-long skinniness and think nothing will make them fat. Yet their case is not hopeless. A recently discovered combination of assimilative agents has made fat grow after years of thinness, and it is also unequalled, indging from reports, for repairing the waste of sickness or faulty digestion and for strengthening the cryes. This remarkable preparation called Sargol. Six strength-giving, fat-producing assimilative elements of acknowledged merit have been comnined in this preparation, which endorsed and used by prominent peode everywhere. It is absolutely harm-(12kss, inexpensive and efficient. C. A few weeks systematic use of Sargol should go far to produce flesh and strength by correcting faults of definince in May's voice as she replied: digestion and by supplying nourishing (ats to the blood. If not, every druggist who sells it is authorized to return the purchase price. Increased nourishment is obtained from the food eaten, and the additional fats that thin people need are thus pro-vided. All leading druggists supply Sargol and say there is a large demand for it. While this new preparation has from reports given splendid results as a nerve-tonic and vitalizer, its use is not recommended to nervous people unless they wish to gain at least ten pounds of fiesh.—Advertisement.

"But she didn't write the letter herself?"~

"No, her mother wrote it for her." Again the words of the husband who, it seemed to the agonized wife, was acting the part of the grand inquisitor, came slowly:

"In other words," he said very deliberately, "your friend whom you haven't seen for years chooses a moment when she is critically ill to get her mother to write to you concerning matters which your husband daren't know anything about. Is that correct? This time there was just a gleam of

Now came the moment when Strickland's suspicion of his wife that had been gathering and growing and developing as fast and as thick as the smoke rose from the jar which held the genie found open expression. Strickland's next voice came in a low one. He was speaking to himself, but words were distinctly audible to the waiting woman.

"Henderson place. Where is that card Trask gave me?"

He searched in his pockets for the card. May knew—oh, only too well: for she had been listening unsees when Trask gave the address to her husband, and crossed the room to the sofa, but she professed ignorance when she "What are you talking about?"

Strickland's fingers found the card and drew it from his pocket. "Here it is! What's this? '14 right, CHAPTER XII. Found Out.

N ow for May had come the end of everything that made life worth living, it seemed, the end of everything save life itself, and that in her present state of mind and soul and body was not worth the having. If, as some cynics have maintained, sin in the eyes of the world lies not in the sinning itself, but in the being found out, she had sinned beyond expiation, she was a soul lost beyond any possibility of redemption. She could only moun: "I don't know; I don't know."

"Is it, or isn't it?" Again came the moaning, "I don't

"I'll soon find out!" The words were jerked out. With them Strickland reached for the purse, which lay on the table between the man and wife. But she forestalled him, selving the purse and throwing the hand containing it behind her back. She bent forward toward her husband, and her breath came in gasps as she said:
"What do you want it for?"

"I want to see that address!" "There's no address there," she lied. "Give me that purse!" "No, Robert!"

"Will you give it to me or not?" There was no affection in his voice now, only anger and determination to possess himself, at any cost, even violence toward his wife, of the purse.

HEALTH TALKS By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

THE DENTST, DISPENSER OF HEALTH.

He happened to neet the patient socially, and, with natural professional instinct, he noticed certain abnormalities about the patient's mouth. "Why not have those septic stumps drawn while you're here in town?" he asked. "I feel sure that the inflamed condition of your gums has something to do with your stomach trouble."

ach trouble."

The patient was just fool enough to accept the advice of self-constituted authorities. This is a great fault in many otherwise desirable patients. He permitted the scientific young person to extract the decayed stumps and trent the diseased gums. From that day onward he was surprised and delighted to find that his stomach bothered him less and less; in the course of a few weeks he gained many pounds in weight and returned home to live happily for the rest of his life.

Stockholm, Sweden, Dec. 10.—Preparations have been completed for the resumption of the exchange of wounded prisoners between Russia and Germany. The transfer will be carried on as before without any modification of the original plan, but several innevations have been introduced which will make the long journey more comfortable for the wounded and additional sanitary precautions have been taken. One of these is a new disjustecting station at Haparanda, where all arrivals will receive a steam bath, while their clothes are washed and disinfected. Since it has been found that the locomotves and steam heater can only supply enough heat for two cars, the trains, during the cold weather will be cut down to that length. Large numbers of blankets have been provided, and the wounded will have no difficulty in keeping warm in their excursion northward which carries them almost into the arctic circle.

The exchange will continue through November, but it will be needed to take care of the Christmas traffic, which in Sweden is always extraordinarily heavy. The sanitary arrangements have been found to be perfectly satisfactory. The doctors in charge state that no infection of a serious character has occurred, and only one nurse has been taken ill.

answer his letter? Shall I mention what he said about caring for me?

Silence gives assent. If you do not mention what he said about caring for mention what he said about caring for mention what he said about caring for wou he will think perhaps you do care for him and will be encouraged to say more. Tell me that you value him as nothing more, and that you want him to think of you in the way.

I answer his letter will leave me enough to live on if am earful. Do you think I am mak ing a mistake to give up a fine ma who would be kind to me and give me a nice home for some one who drinks and probably I can never manyone in the world?

I think you would make a great mistake to marry anyone you do no care for. Your intention to remain that you want him to think of you in the same way.

Our instructions to the famous editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine were: "Get up a book of recipes of the things people like best. Find the best way to make and bake each one. Then write it out so plainly that even an inexperienced housewife can't have a failure.

"The Cook's Book" was the result. Some of the 90 recipes were originated, many of them were improved upon, and all were personally tested by this best known authority on cooking in America, and she tells so clearly how she made everything that one cannot go astray.

While some of the cakes and pastry are elaborate enough for any occasion, the recipes are all thoroughly practical and call for no expensive and unusual ingredients. In addition to telling how to make them, the book is beautifully illustrated in colors showing how to arrange and serve the dishes appetizingly.

More than half a million of "The Cook's Book" are now in use in American households. Yet the demand is constantly increasing. Many send for two or three at a time to give to friends or young house-teepers. Don't depend on borrowing one from a neighbor-have one of your own.

How to Get "The Cooks Book" In every 25c can of K C Baking Powder is packed a colored certificate. Send us one of these certificates (paste it on a postal card if you like) with your name and address plainly written, and "The Cook's Book" will be mailed free of charge, Only one book for each certificate.

THE BOOK FARMER

MAKING GOOD ON THE LAND

GARRARD HARRIS

COPYRIGHT, 1918, BY HARPER & BROTHERS,

"You'll do," said the merchant, shaking hands with him as the wagon rolled up to receive the cats and rye "Goodby, and you just go ahead and use your judgment."

The fence was built next day, with a substantial lock upon the gate, and Joe carried the key in his pocket.

With the assistance of Link he sowed the rye thickly on three acres and oats on the other. He hired his father's team and harrow, agreeing to pay a dollar for the use of it, and harrowed the grain thoroughly into the finely pulverized soil.

The many spikes or teeth of the har-row had by this time demolished every cled, and the surface of the field was level and smooth, with a slight slope to the south, which insured drainage.

Passers by on the country road began to stop and watch his operations. Most of the farmers grinned indulgently and predicted that nothing would come of "all that foolishness." A few of them went to thinking, and without saying anything about it went home and gathered up leaves and trash and barnyard fertilizer and plowed an acre or so deeply, just as a matter of curiosity, to see what would happen. A few others sowed oats or rye just as Joe did.

The ryo came up—a splendid, thick stand of it. In a few weeks it had spread, forming a solid mat of luscious green. Hungry hogs prowled squealingly around the hogproof fence; hungry cows looked and longed and lowed disconsolately, for it was near Christmas time, and there was no green pasture available for the poor creatures and dead grass is not very satisfying. Jim Sullivan stopped his team in the road one day and gazed admiringly in the field.

"Got a fine stand thar, Joe!" he "Pretty good-yes, sir." "What'll you charge me to let me graze these here horses in that patch awhile? They're powerful puny. I never made no feed to speak of last fall, an' if I don't strengthen 'em up some I'm afeard they won't pull through the Joe gazed at the scrawny, weak animals and felt sorry for them. He re-called the $4 Jlm had paid for the liquor last fall and thought if it had been invested in oats the horses and Jim would both have been a good deal better off.

"Why, I hardly know, Mr. Sullivan"---"I ain't got no money now, Joe, but I'll pay you next fall when my cotton comes in." Joe remembered hearing Mr. Somerville say Sullivan was mighty bad pay, that he spent every cent he could get his hands on for liquor.

"That ain't business, Mr. Sullivan. I can't afford to wait that long. Tell you what I will do, though. I saw that old white faced sow of yours with a new litter of pigs about a month ago. I'll pasture your horses here until the first of the year for two of those little

Joe went to the barn and got a sack. From the oak grove he managed to scrape up four sackfuls of learns. These he placed in a corner of the fence. Then he cut a pole about ten feet long and ran it cuter cornered through the wires of the two lines of fence about three feet from the ground. Several shorter ones were placed behind it to the angle formed by the fence corner post.

With his hatchet he cut pine brush from the bushes in an old field and piled them on the poles in the fence corner, the stems all pointing to the front, until a thick thatch formed a sloping roof which would shed rain. Then be piled more pine brush about the two sides formed by the converging wire fence and climbed over and surveyed his work.

He had made a cozy rain and wind proof shelter, and he smiled as he thought of how those uncared for pigs of Sullivan's would enjoy it. Across the road was a spring branch and an abandoned washtub from the house, with an approach of dirt banked to its edge, which, set down and placed in the field, formed a watering place for the pigs. Joe thoughtfully put several large stones in the tub so that the water was not over five inches deep. In case one of the pigs fell in it would not drown.

Next morning Jim Sullivan brought the pigs, lirely, spotted little fellows, but poor as snakes. Joe turned them louse in the field, and they began eating the tender young rye as if they were famished. Jim's scrawny horses green stuff. sands have been touched by the ministry of redemption, healing and regeneration.

"The favorite appellation of Christian Scientists for God is Love. The word Love expresses the divine nature and the tender relation between God and His creation. Moved with an upwelling flood of gratitude for the conscious sense of Immanuel, or 'God with us,' men in all ages have tried to image forth the depth of God's love for His children; but no human thought can conceive it, or human tongue express it, even when most aware of His brooding tenderness and watchful care.

"Notwithstanding the false accusations against him, and the indignities and assaults to which he was subjected. Jesus fulfilled the mission for which he came. What he thought regarding those who opposed him may be summed up in the words uttered in the moment of his greatest trial, when he said. Father, forgive them; they know not what they do.' He knew that the time would come when his words and his deeds would be understood and justified.

Jesus overcame the so-called law of material force by calming a raging sea, and stilling a violent storm. He overcame the laws of physiology, anatomy, pathology, and material medica by healing the sick, the lame, the blind, the deaf, and by raising the dead. He overcame the laws of production by turning water into wine, and feeding the sick, the lame, the blind, the deaf, and by raising the dead. He overcame the laws of physiology, anatomy, pathology, and material medica by healing the sick, the lame, the blind, the deaf, and by raising the dead. He overcame the laws of physiology anatomy, pathology, and material medica by healing the sick, the superiority by walking on the water. He overcame the law of gravity by walking on the water. He overcame the law of material or physical existence by his accension.

"Is it not overwhelmingly evident that his mission was to demonstrate the superiority of divine power and law?"

"The same law which Jesus used centuries ago is operative and available today. Divine law is always law?

"The same law which Jesus used centuries ago is operative and available today. Divine law is always present, and universal, because it is infinie. That it is not circumscribed to personal possession is verified by Jesus' own words.

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with cezema, ringworm, rashes and since ilar itching, burning skin troubles.

At any reliable druggist's get a jar of resimal ointment and a cake of resimal soap. These will not cost a bit must than seventy-five cents. With the resimal soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resimal ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

ain's allies, this being an obligation which Mr. Asquith's cabinet has entered into with Russia, France, Italy and Serbia, as well as Roumania and Greece, if they will enter the war on the side of the entente. Then there is the question of war pensions which the exchequer must settle, a vast field of finance by itself which an expert would ordinarily require several years to explore before presenting a new standard of pensions for the country to pay in additional taxation. The problem of waste is also crowding upon Mr. McKenna's attention since there appears to have been predical expenditure in almost every department of the army, as well as in the administration of affairs at home. The Dardanelles expedition, for instance, called for the shipment of 89,000 horses to the Gallipoli Peninsula, a place where no horses could possibly be used, and the exchequer has been paying for two-thirds of a year for the upkeep of these horses in Egypt.

Rich men who will be called upon by the new laws to give to the state one-half their income, and poor men who will have to stint their little families in the necessities of life, join in saying that the chancellor of the exchequer has presented a budget which wins their approval.

His budget is bold and revolutionary, introducing the new era of protection by taxing some of the imports most profitable to the foreign merchants, and it is a budget in which nearly every one in Great Britain, rich or poor, bears his proportionate share of the burden, and this explains its cordial reception.

Britishers are perfectly willing to pay for the war if thereby they can add to their chances of winning. "It's better for us to pay McKenna than the kaiser." is the way they express it.

Mr. McKenna not only has to col-

Mr. McKenna not only has to collect new taxes from the British peolic. but he has had to persuade them to loan the government all their available cash and subscribe to the war for only three seconds. He has lad to foat the loans which the government has made in neutral countries, among them the loan recently taken up in New York under the superintendence of Lord Reading and his committee, acting for the chancel or of the exchequer.

The charmer living four miles south of the city. The horses were hitched to a lumber wagon, and started from opposite Lappin's block.

Without the driver they started down South Main street at a fearful rate of speed, throwing the wagon from side of the street to the other in a frightful manner. Where they ended their fight or what became of the wagon, we have not heard. The beautiful snow falling as gently as autumn leaves made its appearance today.

NICARAGUA PAPER MONEY NOW BACKED BY GOLD RESERVE

Monetary Conversion Accomplished After Years of Trouble With Worthless Paper Money. [BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Managua, Nicaranga, Dec. 10.—The monetary conversion of Nicaragua, by which a mass of paper money with nothing behind it save the impaired credit of the government has been converted into a currency backed by a gold reserve, was completed on October 31, by the expiration of the time in which to change the old paper into the new money.

other in which to change the old paper into the new money.

The conversion was begun in a preiminary way in 1911 by the provisional government which succeeded the regimes of Zelaya and of Madriz, the president whom Zelaya left when he fled. It was entered into actively in 1912, was interrupted and set back a year by the flerce revolution of that year was resumed in 1913, and although retarded by the business depression that fell upon the country was making fair headway in 1914 when it was again set back by the Europen war. Notwithstanding these obstacles, the present government, which succeeded the provisional officials after the elections of 1912, has steadily kept at it and now consumreward.

The new money, of which the corresponding to an American dollar in value, went into force March 23, 1912. The gold reserve is kept in New York. All went well, exchange remaining at par, until the war in Europe broke out. Then, frightened unduly as it has since turned out, but along with the rest of the world, the government passed a moratorium law and the sale of gold exchange stopped. Cordobas went to a discount, at first of five to eight points. Then, assisted by local speculators who wanted to return to the haleyon days of wild fluctuations. Cordobas fell and rose, and fell again, at one time reaching 25 per cent. discount. Early this year the favorable reaction set in, assisted by one of the local banks, and the Cordoba has gradually risen till now, coincident with the conversion of the last of the old paper money. It is practically at par again, and the government and the bankers say it will be maintained there at all cost.

Considering the effects of the war on finances, and that it cut Nicaraguan commerce into half, and also considering what has happened to the pound sterling and the money standards of Europe, Nicaragua's feat of bringing its money to par is very creditable. It has had good financial, advice and assistance, and has persevered. It should be the first step towards a revival of its commerce and business. The retirement of the last of the paper currency and bringing the new Cordoba back to par is hailed as a financial feat. President Diaz and Minister of Finance Guadra are naturally much elated.

The officer began his letter by remarking that he was playing plquet with the captain when the orders came to lift anchor and attack Dedeagatch, and he regretfully chronicles that the "exigencies of the service made me sacrifice a hand containing fourteen aces!" There were some grewsome preparations for the

"The destroyers and monitors drew much less water than our larger ships and were able to creep in on the lead, the charts of Dedeagatch being inaccurate, and they plugged all manner of things. Fortunately the population of the town had all gone away, and the troops stayed behind us in the hills, so I don't think anyone was hurt. We killed a sitting engine which tried to hide behind a bush, but one which ran away escaped all right. Two of the destroyers inspired it to still greater efforts with their four-inch guns.

"When we realized that there was no one to hurt, it just became a bon-fire or Trafalgar Day fireworks—heing the 110th anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar. We set all manner of things on fire. Common shell was effective and lyddite was better. We burned a vast mountain of coal, many railway vans and trucks, ships, and two oil storehouses.

"But the best blazes were warehouses behind the calque harbor and an immense factory stuffed with highly inflammable goods. It was "The railway cars burned merrily, the fire-jumping along from one to the other and even eating away to windward, and the storehouses burned solidly and well, section after section catching. They had great glass skylights, which were shattered by the shells and ventilated the fire nicely.

"The great thing about it was that nobody tried to put the fires out, and if one got smoky, a shell brightened things up a bit and improved the ventilation, so I don't suppose I will ever see a finer blaze than Dedearatch. The sparks from the big factory set

Landon, Dec. 10.—What seems to be an infination that troops of the entente allies contemplate evacuation of Serbian territory, if they have not already done so, is contained in a statement declared in a Reuter dispatch from Saloniki to have been issued by the French general stant on the Balkan front. The message says:

"We, the French and British, are retiring for reasons easy to understand, in view of the fact that the Serbian army for the moment is out of the reckoning, our presence in Serbian entering, our presence in Serbian army for the moment is out of the reckoning, our presence in Serbian army for the moment is out of the reckoning, our presence in Serbian army for the moment is out of the reckoning, our presence in Serbian army for the moment is out of the reckoning, our presence in Serbian army for the moment is out of the reckoning, our presence in Serbian army for the moment is out of the reckoning.

The Bulgarians Bone through all the preliminary stages and is now approaching the climax of intensity.

Although pursuit of the Serbians continue, it is apparent from the proportions which the Macedonia conflict is assuming that the major part of the Bulgarian from the allies.

The outcome of the battle now in progress is awaited with great any item in England, as it will determine in great measure, the intendities future for the entente powers in the Balkans.

The numerical superiority of the Bulgarian forces already has been demonstrated in the initial encounters with the British. Grave doubts are voiced here as to the ability of the British forces to repel the increasing momentum of the Bulgarian attack.

French Uedge Threatened.

There is no indication, however, that the British or French have yet found it necessary to willdraw further than the positions mentioned in tecan; official communications. With the Bulgarians in their positions, at Demiricapu, and advancing west of Vardar in the neighborhood of Petrovo, south of Strumnitza. Saloniki dated Thursday says:

"On the strength of the fact that the French and English troops relified from positions to the north and east the Bulgarians announced a brilleant yletory over entente allies. It is related on good authority that no serious action took place. It is officially dented that any Gormans are among the Bulgarian troops in front of the entente allies."

Ask Neutrality of Greece.
Vienna, by courier to Berlin, Dec. 9, via London, Dec. 10.—It is authoritatively stated here that the central powers have brought no pressure, thatever, to bear on Greece. The view incheld that the position of Greece is fillicult in the highest decree and the reck government is endoavoring to reserve not only neutrality but complete independence. The position is taken here then that pressure upon Greece is hardly called for and would even be useless so long as the Athens government was able to assert its own interest.

The interest of the central powers, it is stated, is merely that Greece is should remain neutral, no more and no less. Considering the condition of the country and that the Greek government that the Greek government is effected for the ensuing term: President, 1. J. Bick; vice president, I. lies should try in this manner to create a base, it is declared the artillery that reduced Antwerp would have something to say.

The entente allies would err, it is declared, in assuming that; any undertaking in the Balkans would be too great for the central powers. The interest of Greece would in any case be respected, it is stated, but the entente lroops on Greek territory would be attacked energetically, which course, it is maintained, nobody could condemn. The delineation of the arena of war, would then be Greece's affair and would depend upon the movement of the entente troops.

Central Powers Confident.

The utmost confidence is expressed in authoritative quarters here concerning the Balkan situation since the central powers, it is claimed, are able to confront whatever forces the entente forces land at Saloniki or elsewhere, with forces greatly superior in number. The lines of communication for the central allies and Bulgarians are already in good condition, which is hardly the case for the entente allies, it is said.

It is said the trolley wire broke after the last street car had passed down the line. Had the wire been charged with high tension electricity, fatal results would undoubtedly occurred to both people. The power, however, was shut off at this hour.

Other parties who sought to pass or the street were warned of the danger of the "live wire" by pedestrians who discovered the trolley across the street.

Monroe Woman Falled to Ask Allmony Because She Thought Former Spouse Was "Broke." [SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Scause She Thought Former Spouse Was "Broke."

[SPECIAL TO THE OZZETTE]

Monroc, Wis., Dec. 10.—Charged with perjury, Edward J. Griffiths has been returned to Monroe for trial. The arrest is an echo of the action for divorce tried in the local courts last February. Griffiths was arrested in Chicago.

The arrest and prosecution of Griffiths marks another chapter in the shattering of the romance of Mrs. Nettle S. Wright of this city. The two were children together, and intimate friends. Their ways divided and the woman became the wife of Collin Wright, during his lifetime one of the leading lawvers of Monroe.

Bride Financed Honeymoon.

Following the death of Wright, the widow and Griffiths chanced to meet while she was caring for her mother in a neighboring town. Soon their engagement was announced. It was given out that Griffiths was a prominent broker on the Chicago board of trade, as well as the owner of large real estate holdings in the west. A short time before their marriage, according to the testimony offered at the divorce heuring, he asked and secured a loan of $1.000 from his bride to be, all of his wealth being tied up in investments in which he was unable to realize at the time. Following the marriage he made other loans, totaling between $7.000 and $8,000, no part of which, it is alleged, was ever repaid, Charges Husband Has Money.

Following the marriage there was a wedding trip to California, and it was soon afterward the matrimonial bark struck the rocks when Griffiths was unable to show his western holdings. In a hearing before County Judge Becker, prior to the divorce suit last February in the circuit court, Griffiths. In suit has the has sufficient reasons for believing that at that time he had a large sum on deposit with the Hillings Trust and Savings bank in Chicago. She further alleges that had she known this at the time she would have been able to recover the greater part of the money she had loaned, and would also have made a plea for allimony.

Mrs. Wright was given judgment in the sum she had loaned. Griffiths returned to Chicago to his home with relatives, although it is alleged, he returned to Madison, Wis., long enough to make the acquaintance of the wife of a prominent professor at the state university, who fell a victim to his wiles. However, this is denied by Griffiths.

university who fell a victim to his wiles. However, this is denied by Griffiths.

The present action for perjury is filed by Mrs. Wright not so much in the belief that she will be able to recover the money which has been loaned as through her desire to check the career of Griffiths and prevent other women from losing their property.

Jeff Smith is claiming the middle-weight championship. He points to his record as substantiating his claim. The record he dispenses shows that he has scored something like twenty knockouts, won about twenty-one other bouts in decision, never was knocked down or out and lost only two fights—one on a foul, the other via the decision route. "Also," asserts Smith's press agent, "Jeff knocked out Les Darcy in five rounds."

Jess Willard is to get $22,500 for ighting somehody in New Oricaus in March. After deliberating over the matter with great solemnity, we have concluded that we'd fight anybody for half that amount if we were guaranteed that all funeral expenses would be paid.

RACINE WATER CASE HEARING DATE SET

Valuation of Water Plant, Long a Matter of Litigation, Will be Determined Shortly.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Madison. Wist., Dec. 10.—The commission today announced that a hearing in the case of the Racine water works, a proceeding under which the city is attempting to purchase the plant, will be taken up on Jan. 17. This municipal purchase is the largest yet to come before the commission, involving property valued at nearly $1,000,000. The case has been delayed through long litigation in the $1,000,000. The case has been delayed through long litigation in the courts, but all cases having been disposed of the commission believes that a final valuation will be quickly arrived at. One of the reasons for delaying the case is that the testimony of Allen Hazen, a water works Experise desired. Mr. Hazen, now of California, will come east to spend Christmas in New York, and on his way back will appear before the railroad

SHOWS THE NEEDS.

The recent report of the chief of the fire department has created anew an interest in the physical conditions of our school buildings from the stand-point of safety. This report, coming as it does, in its official form, from an officer experienced as a fire-fighter and possessed of knowledge of buildings from the standpoint of their fire hazard, is receiving deserved attention by school officers, and the public concernly.

One remedy for the congested conditions of the high school and the hazardous conditions of the industrial school, in the third floor of the Lincoln school building, would be the building of an addition to the high school building, large enough to ac-commodate the entire industrial school and the overflow from the high

During the year the high school has been so congested that its efficiency has been impaired, and the danger from fire increased. The board of education has already had under con sideration the matter of building an addition to provide for the large in flux of pupils. It is, perhaps, forinsure safety to the pupils of these two schools, also coincides with the educational needs of these same schools.

The city of Janesville has atways stood ready to provide for the educa-tional needs of the school children. Now that the old high school bonds are all liquidated, it would be the part of wisdom of provide for the immediate and future needs of the high school and the industrial school.

THE COUNTY AGENT.
That the January session of the county board will have the question of the employment of a county agent brought up for consideration, is now most certain. It is not an experiment that the business mon of the county want the board to try, but an organized effort to put the county and its view upon a firm financial basis. The plan has met with success elsewhere and there is no reason that it should not be successful here. Why not give it a chance at any rate? Why not look into the matter that has attracted the attention of the agricultural thinkers for men in the case of the ca ed the attention of the agricultural thinkers for many years past when it can be done at such a small actual cort to the county? It is worth considering and before voting against the project it would be well for the members of the county board to thoroughly acquaint themselves with the du-ties and results such a county agent could obtain for the agricultural interests of the county.

THE POLES GOING.

The few poles removed show such a marked improvement in sales shall a marked improvement in appearance that the only question is, why were they ever permitted to be erected in the first place? The Electric company has taken the initial step to follow out the council's orders and it is understood that the telephon and it is understood that the telephone companies will follow suit about the first of the year. The improvement will be so marked that one will hard-ly know the city when it is finished.

BACK FROM WASHINGTON, Senator La Pollette has come back from Washington. He finished his first swing around the circuits in denouncing the existing state government pressure McCountry ment praising McGovern an ing the virtues of Robert M. La Fol-lette, and what a great man he is, and at what personal sacrifices he is serv-ing the public. He has said nothing about the personal sacrifices that the taxpayers of the state have been forced to make because of the era of reform which his doctrines instilled in the state, but contents himself with abusing men who seek to give the people a business administration. The senator is back from Washington for congress is in session and he is not needed, and for a week or two the state will hear more from him.

INCREASED TAXES.

Of the most vital importance to a great number of citizens are the propositions of Secretary McAdoo to raise additional revenue. This he would do, and it is understood that the president endorses his collection president endorses his scheme, by levying special taxes on gasoline, ker-osene and all forms of lubricating oils osene and all forms of lubricating oils formed from petroleum, on all forms of engines, according to horsepower, on all automobiles and, as he expresses it, "various other articles not necessary to mention." Furthermore, Mr. McAdoo proposes to increase the income tax by lowering the minimum facome taxable, so that all single mentions of the property of the propert resking $2,000 a year and all married rouples making $3,000 a year, or more, would be taxed. He also proposes increasing the tax on the income of all corporations. READING ADVERTISING.
Quite a number of the large newspapers of the country have recently been printing a series of articles in which they set out to educate their readers to the advantages of close scrutiny of their advertising columns.

They argue that these business notices contain in every issue a market report of trade conditions, and a directory of bargains, and that by looking them over from day to day, the consumer can learn of special chances to buy cheaply and can thus greatly reduce the cost of living.

It is suggested in these articles that money for their nonsential goods and clothing, because they do not look out carefully enough for the bargains that are available. There are some people who will not anticipate their wants at all oven if an article which they are going to need in the near future is adventised at a low rate for ture is advertised at a low rate for a special drive. Such people are not in a position to complain if they pay good round prices.

While this is perfectly true, it applies more to the readers of the newspapers in big cities than it does to a town like ours. Christmas 49 Gifts for Men

The average man is a particular individual and rather hard to please when it comes to gift things. When it comes to selecting them for him it's logical to infer that the store that sults the man the best the year 'round is the store that will best suit him at Christmas time. And it is upon this fact that we base our claim of being "The Chrictmas store for Men's and Boys' Gifts."
